Business Standard (IANS)

«Why consumers still hesitate on shopping online via smartphones»

8 January 2018 · English · Quoted by name.

https://www.business-standard.com/article/news-ians/why-consumers-still-hesitate-on-shopping-online-via-smartphones-118010800276_1.html

Research. Huang, G.H., Korfiatis, N. and Chang, C.T. (2018). Mobile Shopping Cart Abandonment: The roles of Conflicts, Ambivalence, and Hesitation. Journal of Business Research, 85, 165-174.

Monday, November 09, 2026 | 12:11 PM IST

हिंदी में पढ़ें

Business Standard

HOME PREMIUM LATEST E-PAPER MARKETS BLUEPRINT OPINION THE SMART INVESTOR SPECIALS ECONOMY PF MORE • • • Subscribe

Advertisement

Home / India News / Why consumers still hesitate on shopping online via smartphones

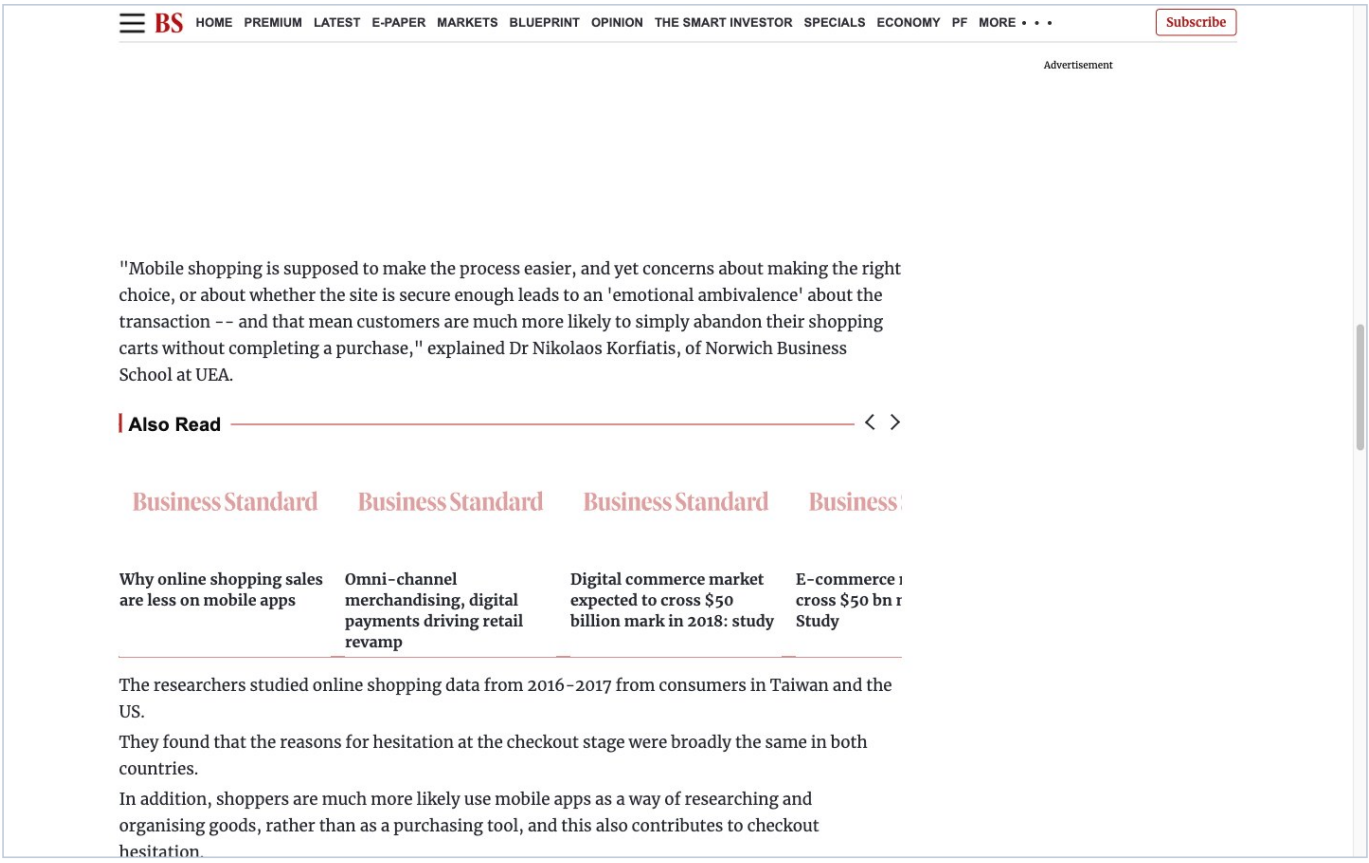

Why consumers still hesitate on shopping online via smartphones

Business Standard

IANS | London

Last Updated : Jan 08 2018 | 11:55 AM IST

Advertisement

BS HOME PREMIUM LATEST E-PAPER MARKETS BLUEPRINT OPINION THE SMART INVESTOR SPECIALS ECONOMY PF MORE • • • Subscribe

Advertisement

"Mobile shopping is supposed to make the process easier, and yet concerns about making the right choice, or about whether the site is secure enough leads to an 'emotional ambivalence' about the transaction -- and that mean customers are much more likely to simply abandon their shopping carts without completing a purchase," explained Dr Nikolaos Korfiatis, of Norwich Business School at UEA.

Also Read

Business Standard Business Standard Business Standard Business

Why online shopping sales are less on mobile apps

Omni-channel merchandising, digital payments driving retail revamp

Digital commerce market expected to cross $50 billion mark in 2018: study

E-commerce cross $50 bn Study

The researchers studied online shopping data from 2016-2017 from consumers in Taiwan and the US.

They found that the reasons for hesitation at the checkout stage were broadly the same in both countries.

In addition, shoppers are much more likely use mobile apps as a way of researching and organising goods, rather than as a purchasing tool, and this also contributes to checkout hesitation.